Sound Energy new Tendirara well nears main target

Sound Energy PLC (LON:SOU) has marked off 'milestone' in its drill programme for the TE-9 exploration well at the Tendirara gas project in eastern Morocco.

The well has reached the second casing point, at a depth of 2,210 metres, and the casing has been set in Triassic shales above the proposed TAGI reservoir (the main target for the well).

"The company looks forward to updating investors on the achievement of total depth," Sound said.

TE-9 is part of a multi-well exploration programme which is expected to dovetail with field development activities, designed to bring the existing Tendirara gas discoveries into a commercial operation.
